Business recommendations

Key findings

1. Beauty is the strongest category by sales, but it also has a high number of return records (614).

2. The South region performs best, and STR003 is the top individual store.

3. December is the busiest month by sales, and 21 inventory records need stock attention.

Recommendations

1. Keep popular Beauty products in stock and promote the products that sell well. Check profit and return reasons before expanding the range.

2. Review low-stock items weekly and reorder products when stock reaches the reorder level.

3. Look into late deliveries and wrong items, and prepare stock before December.

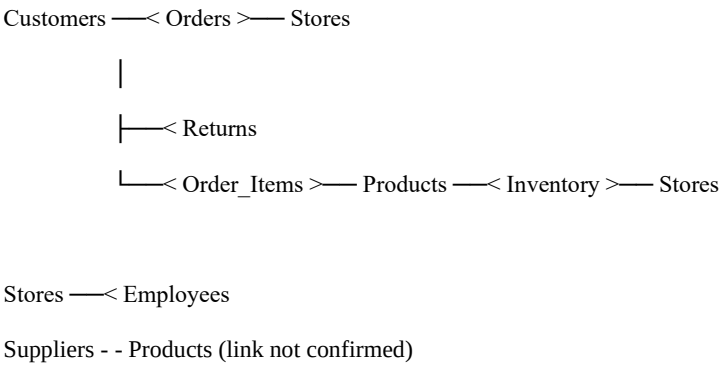

Risk

Some return records are linked to orders marked Pending or Cancelled (1685 records). This may affect return and revenue reports, so these records should be checked.

Opportunity

ShopSmart can build on Beauty's strong sales by planning promotions before December, keeping best sellers available and tracking whether the plan improves profit without increasing returns.

Important note

Sales totals use only orders marked Completed. Low inventory means stock on hand is equal to or below the reorder level. Supplier counts are estimates because there is no direct product-supplier key. Product return counts are counts of return records, not return rates.
